From the Pastor's Desk…

This coming Monday is an important day. It is not a church holy day, but a national holiday. Annually, we hold a commemoration in honor of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., who at age 39 was assassinated on April 4, 1968, in Memphis, TN. He had gone there in support of the strike by sanitation workers, who were seeking better wages and improved working conditions.

Dr. King, while he lived, was viewed as the leader of the Civil Rights Movement during the late 1950s and '60s. At the time, he was a controversial figure, admired by many and certainly despised by some. He called for an end to the "Jim Crow" era of anti-black discrimination embedded in the laws of many states. He lobbied and labored strenuously for the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Voting Rights Act of 1965. Both acts are still the law of the land, but over fifty years later we realize that legislation, however necessary at the time, does not eliminate racism and hatred of others, which comes from the human heart.

Dr. King was a disciple of non-violence. As a Baptist minister and Christian believer, he rejected hatred and violence as a means to change American society. He fiercely believed in the American Creed, that all men (and women) are created equal. He viewed violence in all its forms as contrary to the Christian Gospel and the common good of American society. Violence, he believed, violated the Christian precept of love and hindered racial reconciliation in the United States. Since his untimely death, he has been greatly missed.

In recent years, we have witnessed a resurgence of racism, anti-Semitism, and anti-immigrant feelings throughout the country. Americans witnessed the death (murder) of George Floyd, a man who was suspected of passing a counterfeit twenty-dollar bill, at the hands of Minneapolis police. The long, hot summer of demonstrations in hundreds of American cities (including Columbus) also witnessed protestor violence, police violence, and property destruction. All these actions leave enduring scars upon our beloved country.

Unfortunately, violence between and against fellow Americans is prominent in American history. Enough is enough. As American Catholic Christians, we must lead, and take this moral belief to heart: violence is an evil which has no part with God. Jesus Christ preached mercy, love, and forgiveness. He, too, was murdered by his enemies. Let us resolve that we – the American people and the Christians among us – need to loudly, fearlessly, publicly recommit ourselves to the principles of mutual respect and non-violence.

Have a good week,
Fr. Bill Arnold

Today's American Heroes: Heroes, by definition, act courageously and selflessly. They perform their duty and jobs with extraordinary human strength and they seemingly place fear aside.

We all should be aware that in addition to the well-recognized heroes of history, we must add a whole other group – nurses, doctors, respiratory therapists, EMT crews – who have exposed themselves during this pandemic to a deadly virus that has taken, at last count, 375,000 American lives in the last ten months.

It is estimated that over 3,000 of the above deaths are those of hospital and medical personnel. We dare not forget them. The strain and anguish, and the deaths of these valuable fellow citizens show once again how dependent we are on one another. Think of them before engaging in reckless conduct which potentially could lead to further sickness and hospitalizations.
Fr. Bill Arnold

Violence is Evil – Violence has no upside. It is intended to inflict harm and injury on another individual or an entire community.

We, as Americans, felt ourselves greatly damaged by the attacks of 9/11. We have been greatly harmed and embarrassed by the violent attack on Congress, as its members met to elect the next President on January 6th.

Violence has the ability to spread – and become an acceptable means of solving our divisions and disagreements. Join me, please, in praying for a peaceful transfer of power this coming January 20th. Our future as a democratic republic depends on it.

"Respect Life" Observance: The Mass on Friday, January 22nd at 9:00 a.m., at Holy Spirit has a special intention. January 22nd has been set aside as an official day of prayer for the legal protection of unborn children. This day of prayer recalls the Supreme Court decision, Roe v. Wade, which established the availability of legal abortion in the United States in January 1973.

Respect for all human life begins with the protection of innocent unborn children in the womb. This legal protection for unborn children cannot be won or obtained by bombing abortion clinics, killing doctors who perform abortions, or even by insulting/ personally attacking people who believe in the right to legalized abortion. It begins with a change of heart realizing God's greatest gift to us is LIFE. We are seeking a conversion of minds and hearts, which is voluntary and genuine on the part of each person.

What is Ordinary Time? The Church returned to Ordinary Time after the Baptism of the Lord. This period extends until Tuesday, February 16th, the day before Ash Wednesday. It will begin again on Monday, May 24th, the day after the celebration of Pentecost, and extend all the way until the Saturday before the first Sunday of Advent, Saturday, November 27, 2021.

Keep in mind that every Sunday is intended to be a "little Easter." Sunday, the first day of the week, witnessed Jesus Christ rising from the dead. Our weekly Church liturgy centers around this central mystery of belief of Christian faith – the Resurrection.

The great liturgical seasons of Advent/Christmas and Lent/Easter are expansive celebrations of the Church's belief in Jesus Christ, the Incarnate Son of God, who in the great act of redemption became flesh, was crucified, and rose from the dead. These two seasons are given added emphasis since they recall the central events of Salvation History.

But no Sunday is "ordinary." It is the day of the Lord, at the same time the goal of every week and the beginning of the next. Sundays are the "fabric" of Christian living – we offer our thanks to God in the celebration of the Eucharist. We hear the Gospel proclaimed and are fed with the Bread of Life, the Body and Blood of Jesus Christ himself.

RESPECT LIFE

What "Respect Life" Means. Human life, as the fundamental gift from God in our lives, underlies the teaching of the Church on Life. We believe that all human life is to be respected from the moment of conception to the moment of natural death. This belief holds life itself as the inviolable gift from God.

Please keep in mind, however, how the late Cardinal Joseph Bernadine (former Archbishop of Cincinnati) described the Church's belief: as a seamless garment. All respect life issues are inextricably bound together. As people of faith, we believe that God's gift of life is always to be honored, even under the most challenging of circumstances. Life is not disposable or expendable. Simply stated, we believe in:

- Protection of the unborn child (or fetus) in the womb from the moment of conception;
- Special care for the physically or mentally handicapped, the aged, the infirmed, the mentally ill or disturbed, the dying;
- The "non-necessity" of capital punishment, or executions by the state, and life imprisonment, not death, as a deterrent to crimes against human life;
- The abhorrence of war, terrorism or violence, as the means to resolve disputes, conflicts or grievances;
- The right of people, in a world of plenty, to adequate food, clean water, housing, medical care and meaningful employment;
- The need for science and medicine to uphold ethical standards for medical treatment and scientific research;
- Protection of nature and creation, fostering care for the environment and the fair distribution of the world's resources as belonging to all God's children; especially the poor and dispossessed of the world.
- Presumption of the Christian law of love – selfless giving and self-sacrificing – as a means to promote the right to life of every person God has called into existence.

Propagation of the Faith Collection This Weekend: This collection enables the Church to continue its work among the poorest in more than 1,150 mission dioceses worldwide. Priests, religious brothers and sisters, and lay people rely on this collection, as they minister to young people, refugees, and the sick in hospitals, as they teach children in schools, prepare adults for Baptism, or help those who suffer because of war and natural disasters. Envelopes are in your packets.

The Respect Life Mass is Friday, January 22, 2021, 10:30 a.m., at St. Joseph Cathedral. Bishop Brennan will be the main celebrant. On this day of the anniversary of the U.S. Supreme Court decision Roe v. Wade, our diocese will join all dioceses in the U.S. in observing the Day of Prayer for the Legal Protection of Unborn Children. The Mass will be livestreamed on the Diocese of Columbus YouTube Channel. For more information, contact the Social Concerns Office at socmailbox@columbuscatholic.org, or at 614-241-2540.
